

Meet SCNRC member, Tom Joyce

Tom Joyce fell in love with Surry County's natural beauty after receiving a bachelor's degree in communications from James Madison University and moving here in 1979. An avid outdoorsman, the longtime managing editor of The Mount Airy News wrote numerous columns advocating anti-litter campaigns and other environmental causes over the years. A member of the SCNRC since 2001, he believes one of its key functions is making sure county governmental leaders and citizens never take our scenic resources for granted by succumbing to the pressures of over-development and pollution. Joyce currently works as an intelligence analyst for a defense contractor in Virginia.
